This study was designed to assess the accuracy of three criteria for measuring thoracoabdominal aortic aneurysm (TAAA) size progression. The first criterion was the results of TAAA diameter measurements on computed tomographic scanning over time. The second criterion was the reported decrease in aneurysm diameter after percutaneous transluminal angioplasty of the TAAA. The third criterion was the reported increase in the aneurysm diameter after aortic stent-graft placement. Data were collected prospectively from 1996 to 2004. Three
